If you have read my book Everybody's Happy, Everybody Wins: How to Build a Perfect Society, you will remember EasyTracker from chapter four. In the book, I describe EasyTracker as a simple, transparent, and convenient way for Americans to pay their taxes. Here on everybodyshappy.com, I have embedded EasyTracker so you can contribute to The EHEW Group and/or to The Happy Party.

My book, website, social media, and all related products and services are a labor of love. So is The Happy Party. I am glad to use my own money to fund my work. My goal with these projects has never been to make a profit but to share The Four Pillars of Freedom with the world. At the same time, should an opportunity present itself to make money off my work, I will not turn it down.

Book sales, social media payouts, appearance fees, and any other income will go toward expenses for The EHEW Group. Anything beyond that will be personal income. If/when I earn money, I will re-invest it into the company and I will log each contribution in EasyTracker. Should I reach a point where my profits pay all the expenses, you will see that as well. Financial transparency is EasyTracker's greatest feature and it will be on full display on this website.

As of October 20, 2024, I have spent $12,115.78 on the book, studio time (video and audio recording), merchandise creation and distribution, travel, website development, website maintenance, product design, and marketing. I do not pay myself for my time. So far, there has been no income.

Again, I started this venture with all intentions of funding it myself. However, should you wish to contribute to some or all these services, thank you! Depending on the amount of your support, you will get some fun swag, including a personal phone call from me or a full guest appearance on one of my YouTube episodes or podcasts! You will see your contribution(s) on the service(s) where you have sent money. EasyTracker on everybodyshappy.com works exactly like EasyTracker for paying taxes. So enjoy looking it over, even if you choose not to contribute.

Going forward, I will post additional updates here so you will stay informed. Thank you for your support!
